

Job Description

Job Title	Lecturer in Law
School/Service	School of Justice
Grade	H
Responsible to	Head of School
Responsible for	N/A

Job Purpose:

To support the delivery of academically excellent taught and research modules in law and related applied disciplines across a range of programmes within the School of Justice. The successful candidate will contribute to the provision of an outstanding student learning experience, working effectively to inspire students' interest. The successful candidate will build on their academic and/or professional practice experience to extend the School of Justice research and knowledge transfer capability. Drawing on the School's success in attracting external funding, the job holder will be expected to support and work with existing and new teams to attract funding sources. The post holder will be required to cultivate academic and professional networks, internally and externally, to develop their emerging academic and professional profile in their areas of expertise.

Main Duties and Responsibilities:

1. To make a contribution to achieving the academic objectives in the School through teaching, research, and income generating activities.
2. To act as a module leader for a number of identified modules.
3. To undertake administrative duties relevant to module leadership (administer course registers, assessment records, learning programmes and other records).
4. To engage with the recruitment of students onto courses and to provide appropriate advice on progression and career opportunities.
5. To adhere to quality assurance and enhancement systems to ensure high standards are maintained and the student experience is enhanced.
6. To contribute to the development of the School's commercial activities, including consultancy, training and funded projects.
7. To participate in research as an individual or part of a team.
8. To develop and consolidate contacts with industry/employers and other external organisations.
9. To undertake any duties relevant to the School's activities and commensurate with the level of the post, as directed by the Head of School/designated Division Leader.
